Share Shabbaton Experience With Family and Friends

The second Sabbath in the month of January, from sundown Friday, January 11 to Sundown Saturday, January 12, has been set aside at Park Avenue Synagogue for the Shabbaton. At a Shabbaton we pray together, study and learn together, eat and sing together. Dr. Gerson D. Cohen, renowned scholar and teacher and the Chancellor of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, will be the Scholar-In-Residence.

One of the areas of special scholarship of Dr. Cohen is the Book of Psalms, which will serve as the subject of his lectures at the Shabbaton. His two lectures, one delivered after dinner Friday evening and the second delivered at lunch on Saturday, are sponsored by the Dorothy Tager Education Fund, a fund established in memory of Dorothy Tager, who was an active participant in the Adult Education program at Park Avenue Synagogue.

The Shabbaton begins with the Friday evening Service at 6:15 p.m. and continues

Mozartian Melody Enjoyed At Meeting January 29

On Tuesday, January 29 at 8 p.m., the sounds of Mozart will fill the Park Avenue Synagogue in an evening arranged for the congregation and community by Men's Club and the Women's Evening Group.

In the movie "Amadeus", the audience was treated to more of Mozart's music than in the play "Amadeus", but still the musical bits and pieces were but teasers and background for the imagination of the playwright.

Mozart during his lifetime was a popular musician and composer and interest in his life and work has become intense as a result

Gillman To Teach Two Courses In Sherr Institute This Winter

Other Courses Continue From Fall Semester

Dr. Neil Gillman, Associate Provost and Assistant Professor of Philosophies of Judaism at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, will teach two new and exciting courses in the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies this winter.

For five Wednesday evenings, beginning on January 16 at 8 p.m., Dr. Gillman will teach a course entitled "Saadia and Halevi". As noted in the catalog, these two masters of medieval Jewish thought presented their contemporaries with two contrasting perspectives of their age. Those who have studied with Dr. Gillman in the past know that whatever the material, he deftly draws parallels with today making his subject matter relevant to an understanding of how and what we believe is true.

A course which has to be a "must" for all of us as Conservative Jews is a course Dr. Gillman will be teaching in February on the "Ideology of Conservative Judaism". In this course, which begins on Wednesday, February 20 at 8 p.m., Dr. Gillman will trace the development of the Conservative movement from the mid-nineteenth century to the present. Emphasis will be placed on the contributions of major thinkers Schechter, Kaplan and Heschel, as well as on the 'ordination of women issue' as a watershed in the movement's history.

Synagogue Membership And The Daily Minyan

At the last reception for new members, we were thrilled to welcome 160 new families into our Synagogue - may their tribe increase! This brings our total membership to an all-time high of just under 1200 families. Synagogue membership means different things to different people, and there are many reasons for people to join. But whatever the overt reason, there is an underlying thread which binds all members together — the fellowship of the Jewish people. The need to belong to one's own group, the need to be with fellow Jews at high points during the year, the need to belong to a warm and embracing family whose history and destiny you share.

This broad term, "fellowship", means a deep concern that our synagogue fulfill its three-fold purpose: to be a house of prayer, a house of study and a house of assembly. Notice that "house of prayer" heads the list. Prayer is paramount in the synagogue's list of priorities. Without prayer its other purposes can be fulfilled by a school or a community center. What sets the synagogue apart is its uniqueness as a House of Prayer, a function not duplicated any place else.

Therefore, it should be the highest priority for a synagogue member, new and old, to help assure the continuum of prayer within the synagogue walls: holiday prayer, Sabbath prayer, and perhaps most important, daily prayer. We have almost 1200 member families. Surely it should be no problem to maintain our daily minyan of ten men and women. If every member were to attend one service a month, the minyan would be assured of a long and healthy life.

For your own spiritual well-being and for the many men and women from this community and the world over who come to us to fulfill the mitzvah of daily prayer and the recital of Kaddish, enlist yourself in this basic service of our Synagogue. Great will be your reward.

—Judah Nadich

Book By Rabbi Nadich Lauded In Review

Marc Saperstein recently reviewed the current book by Rabbi Nadich, Jewish Legends of the Second Commonwealth, in an issue of "The Journal of the American Academy of Religion", published by the University of Iowa.

In his review, Mr. Saperstein notes that "Rabbi Judah Nadich has modelled his work after Louis Ginzberg's magisterial Legends of the Jews, picking up chronologically where Ginzberg ended. The format is similar: a continuous narrative supplemented in the notes by a detailed scholarly discussion of the underlying sources. The result is an abundant quarry of materials evoking the Jewish experience antiquity. . . It is a welcome and useful volume, both as a reference work and as an eminently enjoyable and informative introduction to the historical self-understanding of the sages."

Norma Daub Retires As Secretary To Rabbi Nadich

Norma Daub, secretary to Rabbi Nadich for almost eighteen years, has retired and moved to Florida.

Norma knew the congregation and the congregation knew Norma whether it was the Bar/Bat Mitzvah children for whom she typed haftarah introductions, or new members, or families in time of joy and in time of sorrow; everyone in fact who called on the telephone to speak to the Rabbi or who visited the office on the second floor.

At the retirement luncheon held in her honor, Rabbi Nadich commented on her loyalty, hard work, long hours and utter devotion to the Park Avenue Synagogue family.

Norma will be missed here at the synagogue, but we are happy for her that she is beginning a new life in a warmer climate.

All About Tu Bishevat

Tu Bishevat begins at sundown, Tuesday, February 5 and concludes at sundown, Wednesday, February 6.

The rabbis of the Talmud speak of the New Year for Trees. According to the School of Shammai it was to be celebrated on the first day of the Hebrew month of Shevat, but the School of Hillel said that it was to be observed on the 15th day of the month of Shevat. It was the decision of the School of Hillel that was accepted popularly and since the days of the first century of the Common era, the 15th day of the month of Shevat has been celebrated as the New Year for Trees.

This minor holiday is also called Hamishah Asar be-Shevat, which means the 15th day of Shevat. It is also called Tu be-Shevat, the Hebrew letters Tet and Vav standing for the number 15 and the two letters together are popularly pronounced, "Tu".

No special liturgy or festivity is described for the day and its observance consists simply in the omission of the Tahanun prayer from the daily service and in the eating of those fruits that grow in Israel, such as figs, dates, carob, etc. The eating of these fruits as a symbol was not practiced, however, until the 16th century. It is probably that trees were once actually planted on this day in ancient times and that therefore this new year's day was merely a fixed day in the agricultural calendar. When the Jews subsequently were compelled to give up agriculture, the observance became symbolic.

However, in Israel today, the ancient practice has been revived and school children and others plant trees on this day. In our Religious School, the children plant trees in Israel through the Jewish National Fund.

The Synagogue Office has been informed that a raincoat was lost on Yom Kippur by a congregant.

Discussion of 'Fourth R' At YCL/PA Joint Meeting

The Young Couples League and Parents Association invite the Congregation and the community to attend an Open Meeting on Wednesday, January 23, at which Samuel Rabinove, Legal Director of the American Jewish Committee, will speak on "The Fourth 'R' - Religion and Public Education".

Recent events in our own country and abroad have made this issue one of the burning concerns of all thoughtful, freedom-loving individuals. Come and hear and outstanding spokesman discuss what has been described in another context as the pressing need to preserve the constitutional balance between Church and State.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m. Be there. There will be discussion, a Q & A period and refreshments.

Shabbat Dinner Committee Welcomes All To Monthly Dinners

One of the large department stores has the slogan "Catch the spirit" and it is just this concept that the Shabbat Dinner Committee hopes to transmit to our congregation, its families and friends. When we sit down to break bread with one another on a Friday night, it is the spirit of one-ness that we hope to "catch", here, at Park Avenue Synagogue.

On Friday night, January 11, the Shabbat Dinner Committee joins the Sabbathon Committee in arranging the Friday night meal, after which Scholar-In-Residence Dr. Gerson D. Cohen will deliver the first Dorothy Tager Lecture. And in February, on Friday, February 15, the fourth Friday night Dinner of the season will take place.

Make your reservations now as space is limited. Cost per person is $15 for an adult and $10 for a children under the age of 13.

Join Book Discussion Monday, January 14

Something quiet, but exceedingly wonderful, is occurring with some degree of regularity in the Rothschild Library and YOU are welcome to join in — anytime.

On Monday evening, January 14 at 8 p.m. in the Library, Sandy and Jonathan Merrill will organize a discussion of Joan Peters book, From Time Immemorial, as part of a series of self-chosen books by the Jewish Book Discussion Group, which is meeting under the aegis of the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies.

Ms. Peters, a non-Jew, began research for this book with the idea of examining the legitimacy of the Arab claim to the land of Israel. The rest, so-they-say, is history.

Read the book. Join the discussion. It's fun!

Visit The Jewish Museum This Winter

One of the special pleasures of living in New York City is the opportunity to visit The Jewish Museum, located on Fifth Avenue at 92nd St.

Several exhibitions are now on view of diverse interest, from Jewish folk art to Israeli architecture.

"The Jewish Heritage in American Folk Art" is an exhibition organized jointly by The Jewish Museum and the Museum of American Folk Art and chronicles American folk art as it relates to American Jewish history. To March 15.

"Fantasy and Form in the Hanukkah Lamp" draws from the Museum's permanent collection and consists of 60 objects celebrating the imagination and variety with which Hanukkah lamps have been decorated through the centuries. To February 3. Also drawn from the Museum's permanent collection is the show, "Le-Hayyim - To Life! Cups of Sanctification and Celebration" and this show can be viewed through Spring, 1985.

A survey of the Israeli version on the International Style of architecture forms the substance of "White City", an exhibition which originated at the Tel Aviv Museum in commemoration of that city's 75 anniversary. To February 17.

An absolute must-see is Larry Rivers' History of Matzah, a monumental three canvas painting depicting 3000 years of Jewish History. To January 25.

And if you have not already done so, take the young people in your life to see the screenings from The National Jewish Archive of Broadcasting collection which run continuously throughout the year on Sundays, Mondays and Fridays. Program information is available from the Museum by calling 860-1888, 24 hours a day, for a recorded message on that particular week's events at the Museum.

Women's Evening Group Goes To YIVO

Members of the Women's Evening Group spent a fascinating two hours at YIVO on Monday evening, December 10 and then returned to the synagogue for a light supper and good conversation. This 'For Members Only' trip to YIVO was a special event on the Women's Evening Group calendar. The group also offers monthly meetings of programs, meetings which are open to the congregation and community, and the annual Auction, this year to be held on a Sunday afternoon in March of 1985. Reservations for the trip to YIVO were accepted on a first come, first served basis as the size of the group was limited by YIVO requirements.

The group gathered at 6 p.m. in the entrance hall of the mansion which is the home of YIVO on Fifth Avenue and 86th St. Briefed by the Public Information officer on the history of YIVO and the mansion which it occupies, the group was then escorted to the office of the Executive Director where, in his remarks of welcome, the group learned more about YIVO as an organization and its importance to the preservation of a vibrant culture, as well as its plans for its upcoming anniversary year celebration.

Then it was down to the Archives to meet with the Archivist, who took the group through the history of the collection and shared with them the compelling background stories of the historical and priceless documents which he had pulled from the Archives to illustrate his talk.

There was time to visit the Reference Library on the second floor, as well as to view the current exhibit on I.B. Singer.

If you are interested in learning more about the Women's Evening Group, or having your name placed on their mailing list, please call the Synagogue Office and request it. If you would like to become a member of the group, please send your check for $20 (annual membership), made out to Women's Evening Group, to the Synagogue, c/o Women's Evening Group.

music by Mozart, music for the heart, mind and soul; musical themes that can be hummed like the popular tunes of today.

Mrs. Rheinstein is a graduate of the Manhattan School of Music and received a Masters degree in Piano Accompaniment. She is a member of the faculty of the Diller-Quaile School and is Chairman of the Theory Department. She teaches classes in piano and music appreciation and also teaches piano privately. The singers she has invited to help illustrate her talk are professionals studying and working in the city.

This is an audience participation evening and members of the congregation are encouraged to bring their families and friends. Mozartian music is very much alive and well, after "Amadeus"

Volunteer Tutors Needed

Jobs For Youth, Inc., a New York city nonprofit agency, is recruiting volunteer tutors to teach reading to its 16-21 year-old clients. Jobs For Youth is a 25 year-old organization that finds jobs for those youth who are often called the "hardest to employ": out-of-school, out-of-work, and lacking in work experience. Jobs For Youth has been cited as a national model program and in 1983, the agency was a recipient of the Presidential Recognition Award for Community Service.

Jobs For Youth's Educational Services program focuses on the basic reading, writing and math skills which young people need for success on the job. Unfortunately, the agency has many young people who need help, and very few instructors. Volunteers who would like to tutor those young adults, will receive training and be able to arrange tutoring schedules at their own convenience.

Furnishing of Bride's Room Completed by Mr. and Mrs. Club

The furnishing of the Bride's Room, which is located on the Third Floor, has been completed by the Mr. and Mrs. Club in memory of Edna Altman.

Mrs. Altman was the former Chair and President of the Mr. and Mrs. Club and the originator of the fabled Art Show at Park Avenue Synagogue. It was her desire to see the furnishing of the Bride's Room completed before her death, but unfortunately this was not to be.

A plaque has been affixed to the wall of the Bride's Room which reads:

"The Mr. and Mrs. Club of Park Avenue Synagogue has presented the furnishings for this Bridal Suite in loving memory of its colleague and friend

EDNA ALTMAN"

The congregation thanks the Mr. and Mrs. Club for undertaking this labor of love. Those of us who knew Edna know she would have approved.
